CHAIRMAN'S REPORT SPRING 2015

The Parish of Pembury is very dear to my heart, and like all of you I want the best for our Village and I really do need your help. For some time we have needed people to come forward with the aim of becoming a Parish Councillor. It is imperative with local democracy to have a balanced Council as more is being pushed on to the parishes to deliver services. The joy of being on Pembury Parish Council is that it is not political in any way, we just all get down to work for the best for Pembury. You will see a further appeal in this magazine so please give the idea serious thought, especially if you have moved here in the last few years, are settled now and feel you would like to be more involved in the Parish!!

I totally agree with our Environment Volunteers that the amount of litter around Pembury is blighting our green verges throughout the Village. Why is it so difficult to take it home or find a litter bin? I know with summer approaching all dog owners will be very responsible and 'poop a scoop' so that children in pushchairs or wheelchair users don't get detritus on their wheels.

Well done to Waterfield House for their first Health Awareness Day; there was a very comprehensive programme of events and it was so important for patients to see what other sources are available to us all. The Patient Participation Group was simply fantastic in all their work to get this first one launched.

Thank you for all your letters and messages in my retirement from the Borough Council, I so appreciated your kind words. The one good thing is that I can now give all my energies to our Parish.

In the meanwhile we have a packed summer of events happening. It started with the Craft Fair and Scarecrow Competition which will have taken place by the time this issue comes out, Picnic on the Green, which will be great this year, Old Church Cream Tea and lots of other events - diaries definitely need to be filled in.

Kind Regards

June

HAZELDENE HOUSE OPENS ITS DOORS FOR CARE HOME OPEN Day on 19th June

Since Launching their 'Volunteer Buddy' Scheme in September 2014, Hazeldene House Nursing Home has enjoyed welcoming volunteers from all walks of life and proved how valuable a visit from a new local friend can be to the wellbeing of residents.

To continue their vision of making Hazeldene House a place where nice things happen, they are opening their doors on Care Homes Open Day on Friday 19th June, when visitors can meet staff and residents and take part in the unveiling of their new children's play area in the garden.

The play area initiative, along with a Family Corner, with books, toys and a chalk board, are all part of their aim to ensure that when new residents move in, their extended family, friends and neighbours all feel welcome to visit, including pets and children. Other developments include supporting residents to host a 'room warming' party, choose, write and send cards to celebrate loved ones' birthdays and other occasions and running residents' hobby clubs with the help of volunteer 'Buddies'.

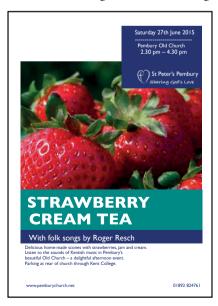

Two new residents have recently held family gatherings which were a huge success. They also run a Saturday morning craft club where wonderful friendships are developing between residents and local 6th form students.

Other events included a Valentine's Dinner and an Easter Egg Hunt, with a raffle that raised £240 for the Age UK Daycentre which meets on the premises. And also to bring residents into the age of social media they are being offered the chance to use SKYPE to keep in touch with family abroad.

If you would like to find out more about Hazeldene House, volunteering as a buddy or Care Home Open Day go to www.hazeldenehouse.co.uk/openday, email Sandie Peters at sandie@grahamcare.org or phone 01892 823018

REPORT FROM PEMBURY'S VOLUNTEER ENVIRONMENTAL GROUP

I think I may have said before that our little group which normally meets on a Thursday looks after twenty two point seven kilometres of footpaths which surround the village through fields, woodland and orchards. Once again it has been a very busy winter removing fallen branches and trees, unblocking waterways and erecting new footpath sign posts and stiles to name a few of the tasks. Most of the equipment comes from KCC and the Parish Council.

We have made good the steps on footpath WT 247 which can be accessed by walking across the fields below Kent College, path number WT204A and then turning up into the woods just above the Old Mill House onto footpath WT247. Unfortunately some of these paths need regular attention each year because they are subject to considerable damage from winter rains.

We have carried out repair work on the steps and handrail on Footpath WT222 leading from the overgrown orchard of Stonecourt Farm down into the woodland. We also made good the handrail of the steps by using timber from the overgrown woodland. Where the rain water rushes down out of the orchard into the woodland it had also eroded the approach to the bridge over the stream and by using timber supplied by KCC we added an additional step to make easier access to the bridge. These are just a few of the tasks that our group has managed to complete over the last few months and we now come into the clearance of rapid growth spring vegetation which soon takes over the footpaths.

Unfortunately we have one or two local land owners who do not keep to their side of the bargain when it comes to footpaths and we have to leave that in the hands of the KCC footpath's officer.

The Parish Council now owns the Old Coach Road down to the second pond and we hope that you will enjoy the quietness of that location. Our group has installed one or two benches down there for walkers to just sit and enjoy the peace and quiet. Many thanks to Johnny Boakes, Neil Franklin, Mick Waterman and Sarah Pomfrett for their continued hard work and support. Please come and join us if you would like to even if it is only for one week. You can contact me on 823068. Look forward to seeing you.

DO YOU WANT TO CONTRIBUTE TO PEMBURY'S FUTURE?

There are 5 vacant places on Pembury Parish Council and at a time when there is more uncertainty about Pembury's future than ever before, when the Principal Councils and Government do less and less for us, development pressures circle us like vultures, we need a strong PARISH COUNCIL – the first tier of local government.

The Parish Elections on 7th May resulted in these FIVE vacancies because of a shortage of candidates, apparently caused by residents in all that pre General Election 'excitement', not even realising a Parish Election was taking place.

So are you interested in Pembury's future? If so why not apply to be a co-opted member of Pembury Parish Council and play your part in the village's future?

If you would like an informal chat about what it entails to be a Parish Councillor feel free to contact either Barbara Russell our Clerk (01892 82 3193), June Crowhurst (01892 82 4873) or me, David Coleman (01892 82 3402).

THE PEMBURY SOCIETY NEWS

Getting on for 80 Members and friends gathered for our April meeting when we had Dr Bob Bowes speaking on the NHS and how it is now structured, coupled with a lively question time on what the effects were likely to be for us as patients. This in a week when the Waterfield House Surgery Patients Participation Group held a Health Fete, bringing together the surgery doctors and health professionals, with various caring and support groups, and fun and games for the energetic doing exercises and Zumba dancing.

Dr Ian Beavis is coming to speak at our AGM meeting on 21st October. Dr Beavis is curator of Tunbridge Wells Museum & Art Gallery, a local historian, natural history specialist, entomologist and Tunbridge Ware expert. We look forward to his visit to Pembury, and welcome both members and prospective members to what should be a most interesting evening.

More committee members would be welcome as we lose Dave and Sally Osborn as they move from Pembury, and we do thank them for their various contributions.

The Interpretation Panel is almost ready, and going through its final proof readings. This is to be installed on the Village Green, and it will show the historical places in the village and the road layout so visitors to Pembury can find their way around.

THE

PEMBURY SCHOOL READ-A-THON, POETRY COMPETITION

As part of Pembury School's recent Read-A-Thon event, the children entered a poetry competition which was judged by the Tunbridge Wells Writers. We are pleased to share the two winning entries, from Bethany in KS1 (5-7yr olds) and Maddy in KS2 (8-11 yr olds)

KS1 Winner - Bethany, Willow Class I Love You

I love you as much as the moon shines bright And the sun feels warm
And the clouds are white
But I love you as much as the sea is blue
The snow is cold
And the cows can moo
But I love you as much as the cars go fast
The snow falls down to the ground
And the deserts are vast
But I love you as much as sky is blue
And as much as the glitterball glitters
My love will always be fresh and new
Let's just agree that You love me
And I love you and that together
There is nothing that we can't do

KS2 Winner - Maddy, Maple Class

Cat

Cat sneak out of the house,
Go catching a rat or a mouse.
Climb up a tree and I'll know what you see.
For I stay in sight of your eyes,
And they are full of lies.
Then you stop and hear,
Crying or just tears.
You sneak around the corner,
I don't know where you are but I know I'm getting warmer.

Where have you gone? Have you gone away but not for very long.

LIFEBOATS AND PEMBURY SCOUTING

Pembury Scouts have been busy collecting money for the RNLI. Following a talk I gave to 1st Pembury Beavers in late January (to help them achieve one of their badges), they raised the magnificent sum of £192.19 at their Charity Day in March. That was augmented by a further £80.48 received by way of a retirement collection organised by Pembury Scouts, after the St. George's Day parade and service held at St. Peter's Upper Church.

All monies raised are put to good use in saving lives at sea and in the running of the lifeguard service on our beaches by the RNLI, which is a charity that receives no grant of any kind from HM Government. I am extremely grateful for these efforts by Pembury Scouting.

DANCING FOR COMIC RELIEF

Girlguiding in Pembury participated in a Danceathon for 'Comic Relief' on Sunday 8th March. We had a multitude of Rainbows, Brownies, Guides, Senior Section, Trefoil Guild members and Leaders all dancing their socks off for a total of 6 hours between them. We raised over £400, so we want to thank all who attended and everyone who sponsored us.

Anyone who may be interested in helping in Guiding can contact Moira Allan at pemburybrownies@hotmail.co.uk.

BROWNIE HOLIDAY – 1ST PEMBURY BROWNIES

Eighteen Brownies and their leaders enjoyed an action packed few days at Blackland Farm near East Grinstead. The Brownies tried archery and wall climbing, as well as the crate challenge. With a 'Hollywood' theme there were some wonderful fashion designs made from coloured bin bags.

The Brownies had great fun rolling down hills and playing on the climbing frame. They enjoyed helping with the cooking but didn't enjoy washing up quite so much! A busy three days, and the weather was fabulous.

Hospice in the Weald - Open Gardens 2015 Summer's just around the corner, country gardens are bursting into colour and Hospice in the Weald Open Gardens is here once again to help you find some of the most delightful in our region.

Our Open Gardens scheme raised just over £11,000 for the hospice last year and, with some exciting additions for 2015, lots more visitors are likely to fancy a stroll around gardens of all shapes and sizes - small ones to inspire creativity, larger areas to explore, gardens for wildlife enthusiasts and interesting ideas for fruit and vegetable plots. And in several villages, neighbours are opening a chain of gardens so that visitors can wander from one to another.

To request a brochure please contact Pam Coleman on 01892 820502 or email pam.coleman@ hospiceintheweald.org.uk or please visit www. hospiceintheweald.org.uk where you can view each individual garden.

We do hope that you will join us for the Hospice 2015 Moonlight Walk on Saturday 20th June. Starting at 7pm at the Army Reserve Centre on St. John's Road this 8 mile circular route through the heart of Tunbridge Wells is suitable for walkers of all ages and abilities.

This year's event is set to be more fun than ever with an after-walk celebration and en-route entertainment. Why not get your friends, work colleagues and family together to also take part?

As a charity, not part of the NHS, it costs over £6 million to run Hospice in the Weald every year so your involvement in our Moonlight Walk will play a big part in making a difference to the lives of our patients, their families and carers. Every donation we receive, no matter the size, makes a difference.

Just get involved today! To register please call Sara Clark on 01892 820586 or go to our website now to register and take advantage of our special offer early bird registration of £20 per person (under 10's free.)

"TYGER, TYGER BURNING BRIGHT....."

With reference to your request for stories to share about Pembury, I wondered if I could use the offices of your magazine to ask if anyone out there recalls this 'incident' at Pembury School nearly 60 years ago. I assure you this is not a belated April Fool's joke, but a genuine attempt to find out whether anyone else who was a pupil at the time, or connected in any other way with the school, recalls it. I have already been in touch with someone who was in my set of youngsters at the time, and she is quite categorical in that she cannot recall it, and that my wife must be putting something into my tea! I have also tried in vain to search the Courier, police and other archives. I realise it's a big ask, because this was about the time the Suez crisis was on, so we really are dealing with ancient history.

In the deep mid-fifties, as you walked past the Junior school, you could see into the upper half of the main hall from the front garden of the school-house or even from the road, and the large black-board that took up much of the south wall then was particularly visible. A member of staff at the time happened to be a gifted artist, and he decided to draw on that black-board a more than life-size depiction of a tiger peering through jungle foliage, ready to pounce! He used all the technicolour chalk.... orange, black, white and green, creating a brilliant, realistic, and dramatic picture which, as I mentioned, could be seen from outside the building. There was a 'tiger on board' you might say!

Over the weekend, some felon took it into his/her head to take a pot shot at the picture with a powerful airgun. On the Monday morning it was left to the janitor, the indefatigable Mr. Russell, to deal with the embedded pellet, as well as the corresponding hole in the window. Myth had it that he had to gouge the pellet out from between the tiger's eyes, but I think that the malefactor missed the drawing altogether. Were this to have happened today, the episode would hardly have put Hughie's crime figures in a good light, and in these post—Dunblane days, there would rightly be a shiver of anxiety and horror rippling through the community; but at least no real child or tiger had been harmed, and in those long gone days, we were presented with a ripping yarn which we kids could embellish over the weeks, or even years, afterwards.

If I have remembered the incident correctly, then despite the inexcusable criminality, there was something slightly Kipling-esque about the episode. Pith helmets in Pembury. You couldn't make it up!

Can I invite anyone who has the remotest recollection of anything like this happening, to email me, please, at m_c_lee@btopenworld.com to put me out of my misery. (There is an underscore after the 'm' and after the 'c' in my email address)

GROVEHURST - PEMBURY

Have any of our parishioners ever thought about or heard of the name Grovehurst? Where was it and what was its significance in the village? My interest in Grovehurst was only stirred when my wife Moira happened to mention that her great grandparents, Ambrose Young and Emily Birch, were married in March 1888 at the Old Church. Their family home then became the middle one of Grovehurst Cottages which are still in the High Street. Both of them were employed at the big house called Grovehurst - Ambrose was one of the gardeners and Emily was a laundry lady.

I have only been able to find out more about Grovehurst recently with the kind assistance of the occupant of the refurbished Coach House and I will come back to that subject in a later edition. I have mentioned Grovehurst Cottages in the High Street but there are also two lodge houses which were part of the estate and which are still in existence today. One is immediately on the left as you pass the entrance to Cornford Lane and the other one is on the left as you go towards Tunbridge Wells after you have passed the second roundabout by what was St. George's School. The construction of the A21 by-pass and the Tesco supermarket virtually cut the estate in half.

The big house was situated between Pembury Road and Cornford Lane and was situated on the Tunbridge Wells side of the A21. It may very well be that there was another lodge gate onto Cornford Lane at some time. It may also be that there are still people in the village who were familiar with Grovehurst, which was finally demolished in the fifties. Please get in touch if you are still out there. As you can see, the house was a very large building. We do know that at one time there was a butler, cook, two house maids, kitchen maid, page boy, governess, nurse, under-nurse, a coachman and untold gardeners. You can see what an impressive property this was and I'll come back with more information on this and of the families who lived there in the next issue of the Pembury Village News.

PEMBURY U3A

As ever Pembury U3A is buzzing with activity and we are always ready to open our minds to a varied range of topics. We hold two lecture lunches every year which give us a chance to hear something a bit different while enjoying a tasty repast. We have learnt about the current conflicts in the Middle East, wild camel conservation in Mongolia and in April this year we had a talk about Picasso's Women which proved very enlightening about the artist – so all very different! Once a year we hold a lunch for our Group Leaders as a special thank you for all the work they put into heading their groups and following the lunch last year we had a talk by the charity Canine Partners and subsequently visited their premises near Midhurst for a demonstration of what these remarkable dogs are trained to do for disabled people.

With outings to Eltham Palace and Downe House and the annual holiday in Wales in May, we are looking forward to the summer and keeping our fingers crossed for a fine day when we are holding a Garden Party to celebrate the 800th anniversary of the signing of Magna Carta.

(Picasso's Women)

If you think you might be interested in joining us please come along to our Signing Up Day on 1st September at the Village Hall where you can speak informally to our Group Leaders and find out more about the Interest Groups we offer – and who knows in the future you might even feel like starting a new one yourself! You'll be sure of getting a friendly welcome!

AN UPDATE FROM PEMBURY'S POLICE COMMUNITY SUPPORT OFFICER - NICK BROWN

In December 2014 motor vehicles parked along The Coppice and Knights Ridge, Pembury, were damaged, resulting in expensive repair costs for the owners. After the victims were visited by officers and intelligence gathered a thorough investigation was conducted. Suspects were identified and spoken to by officers. However, after all possible lines of enquiry were exhausted and due to a lack of evidence unfortunately no further police action could be taken.

If anybody has any further information that they feel may assist police with their enquiries please contact 101 (non-emergency) quoting reference YY/024716/14. Crime stoppers can also be contacted on 0800 555 111, where you can remain anonymous.

With summer approaching and most of us already enjoying the warmer weather, from a policing perspective the longer days present some new challenges.

One of these challenges will be how we continue to respond to complaints about noise and antisocial behaviour (ASB) as people stay out later and often congregate in public areas.

ASB takes many forms and whether it is loud music, or groups of youngsters drinking alcohol and perhaps intimidating passers-by, it can make people's lives a misery.

Over the past six months Kent Police has received a number of reports concerning ASB in Pembury and as your local PCSO I'm determined that we continue to enforce the message that this type of behaviour won't be tolerated in the village.

We have adopted a number of approaches to tackle this issue and we work in partnership with other agencies to achieve this. An example of this has been the help we have received from the Kenwood Trust charity, which has regularly attended areas where young people congregate. This organisation engages with young people and gives advice about the consequences and potential dangers of alcohol and drugs, as well as the disadvantages these substances may cause them in the future.

This engagement has also coincided with some positive changes around how we deploy police officers in parts of Pembury where we know that problems have been reported, which include areas such as the Recreation Ground and Romford Road. The changes have allowed us to increase visibility of patrols and I hope that, as a result, the amount of reported incidents of ASB will continue to decline.

On a different subject, one of the things I often hear complaints about is inconsiderate parking in some areas of Pembury. I appreciate that some of the roads in the village are very narrow and as such, leniency is often given for vehicles which are parked on pavements. However, when parked vehicles are restricting access for pedestrians who are then forced to use the road, this is totally unacceptable. Please remember that children and older people are particularly at risk if they are forced to navigate parked cars and walk in the road.

Motorists really do need to give more consideration otherwise this may result in further action being taken by the police or other agencies.

KENWARD TRUST WORK IN PEMBURY

Please find below a summary of what we are doing in Pembury's Recreation Ground and information about Kenward Trust.

We have been working with the young people there since September 2014 to reduce antisocial behaviour within the park and surrounding areas, and to address negative behaviours such as taking alcohol and/or drugs and committing crime. Each visit lasts 1-2 hours and we speak to an average of about ten to fifteen young people between the ages of 13 - 17/18 years of age.

These young people are very receptive to us and talk quite openly about themselves. They also respond positively to the delivery of our outreach workshops. We have now started to develop relationships with these young people with a view to instilling an understanding that they are part of the greater community. It is also our aim to open their eyes to see the beneficial effect that positive behaviour can have not only on their local environment, but also on themselves and their families and friends.

We also aim to make the young people aware of the serious consequences that may result from negative behaviour and making wrong choices, by delivering factual information on the law and potential health risks.

Kenward Trust Youth Services have been working with young people and communities since 1996. The project was called Grey Zebra and then changed to Kenward Community Outreach Services. The project is an Information, Education and Intervention service that is funded by three borough councils. Tunbridge Wells Borough Council funds outreach work like the work we are doing in Pembury. Once an area has been identified, Kenward will go and profile the area to see if the issues it is facing are drug or alcohol related. If they are then an outreach team will make contact with the identified group and start building a relationship with the aim of giving information and education around issues and drug use. This is done with men and women who volunteer from open prisons or who have been through a drug and alcohol rehabilitation centre. These workers are supported by a qualified worker from a youth and community background or counselling/social work. Having the balance of volunteers and professionals helps the young person to explore the issues of substance misuse and antisocial behaviour. We also go into schools, colleges, youth clubs or wherever young people are meeting.

We also run Kenward Intervention Programme (KIP). This programme is for young people who are using or caught up in some way related to substance misuse/antisocial behaviour. Groups are invited to come to Kenward Trust Rehabilitation Centre and take part in a day's programme, where they will hear life stories, take part in activities looking at drugs and the law, meet current serving offenders who talk about prison life, and ex-offenders who help young people look at how their lives are now affected when getting employment and travelling abroad due to a drug and alcohol criminal record. What the rehab shows is that men and women from all walks of life can get caught up in addiction and visiting the rehab centre helps young people to distinguish the reality of addiction from the myths and perceptions. This was a very powerful day that helped young people to explore the consequences of life which can be turned upside down and ruined due to this behaviour. This project was very successful last year and was funded by Anne Barnes the Police Commissioner. We hope to get some funding this year to be able to run KIP again which will give young people like the ones we meet in Pembury, the opportunity to explore their behaviours before ending up with a criminal record for drug use.

A NEW SEASON BEGINS AT PEMBURY BOWLS CLUB

As I draft this article our new bowls season is just two days old and we have already been visited by friends from Bayham & Lamberhurst Bowls Club and from Cranbrook Bowls Club, both to play friendly matches with us. On virtually every weekend now until the end of September we will be playing friendly matches with other local clubs, either on our Green or theirs. These matches may be mildly competitive but essentially they are more of a social occasion providing the opportunity to enjoy our sport by playing with old and new friends from these clubs. Most matches consist of twelve players from each club, divided into four teams of three players and using four lanes of the green. Playing from one end of a green to the other is known as an end and each match normally consists of eighteen ends. Invariably, however, we take a break after nine ends to sit down and entertain the visiting players with a cup of tea and a biscuit or sandwich or piece of cake. From start to finish the match will take approximately three hours and is a very pleasant way to enjoy a Saturday or Sunday afternoon. These matches are the mainstay of our bowling calendar and members of all abilities are encouraged to participate in them - teams being selected from lists of volunteers which members can complete in the club house.

For the more competitively minded player we also hold internal competitions to establish the annual club champions for individual players, for teams of two players (pairs) and teams of three players (triples). We also enter teams into local leagues, these games normally being played once a week on weekday evenings.

Members are also able to play one another at any time that the Green is not reserved for Friendly, Competition or League matches. Monday and Friday afternoons are also informally reserved for friendly play between members.

Apart from playing bowls we also hold two quiz nights in our club house during the playing season and a club barbeque in August.

Bowls tends to be thought of as being an older person's game but that simply reflects that the very real skills needed to play the game can be retained by those of us categorised as senior citizens and does obscure the fact that players from teenage onward can display those same skills and with due application play the game to a high standard. It is also a game that can be played to the same high standards by men and by women and the friendly matches described at the start of this article always contain a mix of men and women. Pembury Bowls Club welcomes new members of all ages, whether current players or newcomers to the game. If you would like to try the game, or find out more about us, please contact me on 01892 823915 or, if you are passing the Green and see a member, why not introduce yourself and let them know of your interest.

SHOT DOWN OVER PEMBURY - PART TWO

Leslie Pidd - born in 1918 and served with 238 Squadron, Royal Air Force Volunteer Reserve from 7th December 1938 as a Sergeant. He had already fought in the battle for France and the evacuation from Dunkirk. By early September 1940, 238 was back at Middle Wallop, Hampshire and in the thick of the battle. The squadron was often among the first to intercept enemy fighters, which could cross the English Channel in six minutes. On 15th September (Battle of Britain Day) there had been three attacks launched by the Luftwaffe. Leslie was flying Hurricane P2836 that day and was in combat with at least 5 of his squadron. There was fierce fighting in defence of London and this particular battle took place over Kent. At 3pm after three of his squadron colleagues were forced to leave the fray with their aircraft damaged, Leslie's Hurricane was claimed as shot down by a Messerschmitt Bf 110. His plane crashed into an oak tree in the grounds of Kent College and came down quite close to the main school building. It is believed he came down with his aircraft and did not manage to bail out. He was buried with full ceremonial honours, including an RAF flypast, in the cemetery of St. Peter's Church in Woodmansey, Yorkshire. He had celebrated his 22nd birthday a month earlier and had been due to marry his fiancée Marjorie Noble on his next home leave.

In 1975 a 'recovery' group from Brenzett Aeronautical Museum came with metal detectors and located pieces of the plane. On 15th September 2010 - 70 years to the day he was shot down and killed, a mosaic plaque was unveiled at the School as a result of a project by one of its pupils, Vicky Vizard, 13, whose father Steve had researched the Battle and excavated the site. Around 30 relatives attended the ceremony.

Ross Smither - born in London in 1912, Ross joined the Royal Canadian Air Force on 10th September 1930. He was with No.1 (RCAF) Squadron when it arrived in the UK on 20th June 1940. He claimed a Me109 damaged on 31st August and a Me110 destroyed and another damaged on 4th September. He was shot down and killed by Me109s over Pembury on 15th September. He was 27 years old and is buried in Brookwood Military Cemetery, Surrey. His name is on the Battle of Britain Monument on the Victoria Embankment, London. His brother Frank was also shot down on 5th June 1942 in France.

SYDNEY SPARROW - by Willow Wildbrook

The sun is rising as Sydney Sparrow rouses himself from his slumber. He has been roosting with the other sparrows in a hedge, but now it is time he got up to find something to eat, just as you do every morning.

Before flying off, Sydney sings with the other birds. It may sound like a bit of a drag to sing with your neighbours every morning, but it is something they do together since they live as a community. Their song is a combination of twittering, cheeps, and chirrups. There is safety in their numbers because the more eyes they have looking for danger, like predators such as cats and birds of prey, the more likely it is they will spot it. If Sydney, or another sparrow, sees a threat, they give a warning call and everyone can rush to safety.

Sydney is a cute, cheeky bird. The top of his head is grey, there is chocolate brown down the side of his head and he has a black bib. The top of his body is a mixture of brown, tan and grey and his underside and wing bars are white. His adorable, fluffy little cheeks are a dirty white colour. House sparrows like Sydney barely weigh anything (22-32g) and they need to eat enough food every day to put on enough weight so they can survive night time outside.

You can help Sydney and his friends by putting out some food for them; sparrows really like seeds but they also eat insects when they are chicks or are raising chicks. They will readily visit bird feeders; make sure they aren't placed too far from cover just in case predators visit. Put out some mixed seeds and sunflower hearts all year round. If you have a garden, plant a variety of plants to provide seeds and insects for sparrows to eat as well as brightening up your space. Remember to provide water as well.

Sparrows are important to the balance of nature. They eat many seeds and, as a result, help disperse them. The bad news for sparrows like Sydney is that they are food for predators such as birds of prey and cats.

As Sydney is hopping around foraging for food, his thoughts have turned to the other very important thing he needs to do. It is spring now, the days are getting longer, and every young sparrow needs to find a mate. Sydney is looking for a female sparrow; he is looking for someone strong, fit, and healthy with whom to raise a family. Typically, sparrows mate for life. To find his mate, Sydney first needs to scout out a nesting site.

Sydney needs to look his best to attract a mate; females choose their mates based on the nest site the male finds, how well he defends it, and his plumage. Sydney keeps his feathers clean by bathing and he removes pests from his plumage by dust bathing. You can help Sydney and other sparrows by providing birdbaths and bare patches of dry soil, perhaps in a sunny spot.

After feeding and bathing, Sydney starts looking for a nest site, flying over gardens searching for cavities that will be big enough and safe from predators.

Sydney would love to nest in a hole in a building or some thick vegetation near the rest of his colony, but suitable places are getting harder to find. You can give sparrows a hand by putting up nesting boxes for them; they need to be 2-4 metres high facing south with a 32mm entrance hole. Flying over his third garden, Sydney finds a new nest box has been put up. It is well placed, nice and high, and out of direct sunlight. He goes in to check it out and he is in luck; no one else has found the box! He claims it as his own. Sydney starts calling just outside the box to attract a female, he will do this regularly and start collecting material for the nest until he has a mate.

After a while Satin, a lovely, healthy female approaches Sydney. Satin, like all female sparrows, is duller in colour to the males. Her wings are much the same as Sydney's, but streakier. Her underside is a tawny colour, she has tan eye lines and the top of her head is brown, not grey. Sydney is very pleased; he really likes Satin. He shows off with a kind of dance, showing his plumage and bib.

After a ritual of flirtation Satin agrees to be Sydney's mate; they will stay together for life. Sydney is very fortunate to have found a nest and a mate, many birds are not so lucky. Unpartnered sparrows will help mated pairs raise their young. This is a good strategy as it improves the survival rate of the chicks and, if one of the mated pair dies, one of the helpers is more likely to be chosen as a replacement mate.

Sydney and Satin finish building their nest together. The outside is made of grass and the soft inside is made of feathers.

At last, their nest is built! It's time for Satin to lay her eggs. House Sparrows lay four or five eggs that are light grey and speckled with grey and brown.

Sadly, as it is Sydney and Satin's first season, it is unlikely they will breed successfully. Don't be disheartened, they have found each other and will nest together each year, having two or three broods a year, and will get better at it.

Both parents incubate the eggs for eleven to fourteen days and both parents feed the young once they have hatched. After about another fourteen days the young leave the nest but the parents keep feeding them for eleven to nineteen days. Baby sparrows look a bit dull, they have pink bills and extra wide mouths; this helps the parent birds feed them lots of insects to help them grow.

I'm sure Sydney, Satin, and the other house sparrows will do well in the future and have many chicks; that is, if they have your help. As long as they have somewhere to nest and plenty of food and water, they will thrive.

Try out some of the tips in this story and keep an eye on your garden for these cheeky chappies!

In the UK house sparrows are in decline and are currently red-listed [2014]. This means they have suffered at least a 50% reduction in the UK breeding population in recent years, and are of high concern conservation wise.

HEALTHY OPTIONS FOR PEMBURY

People were soon joining in the Zumba Dancing (pictured) at Pembury's Health Fete on 25th April. Less energetic exercise was also on offer, a memory game and practising cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) as well as making a smoothie while cycling!

The event, organised by the Waterfield House Practice Patient Participation Group (PPG), brought together healthy options for people from gardening to mental health exercises as well as blood tests and reflexology.

A raffle was run which raised money towards the cost of a cabinet for a defibrillator to be put outside the surgery, but the main objective of the fete was to show people the many ways we can enjoy ourselves in staying healthy.

Earlier in the same week the Chairman of the Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), Dr Bob Bowes, told an audience of the Pembury Society that we had to 'grow up when facing issues concerning death and know that there was a time to die'. Deferring that moment, and staying healthy as close to that time as possible is something which is best started at a young age.

The PPG will be looking at ways of encouraging people in Pembury to stay healthy for their own benefit and to free up the GPs' time to look after those who really need the medical attention when they need it.

Thank you to everyone who helped to make the fete such a success. If you would like to know more about the PPG, please contact me through the surgery.

Justin Cumberlege, Chair of Waterfield House Practice PPG

AWAYDAY FUN THAT SUPPORTS YOUR LOCAL HOSPICE

If you're planning to enjoy a fun day out, there's a rewarding way to put an extra feel good factor into the trip by combining an awayday with raising money for charity.

Hospice in the Weald, renowned for its compassionate care, runs its own travel club. And everyone is welcome to join. The aim is to give individuals or groups a chance to get together and socialise in a fun and friendly way. Membership is just £10 and for that, travellers can pick from a lively range of outings.

Throughout 2015, the club is running excursions and trips to Cambridge, Stratford—upon-Avon and London, among many other beautiful and fascinating destinations, all by luxury coach. Club members can also discover the secrets of the wartime code-breakers at Bletchley Park and explore some of the real-life stories behind Wolf Hall at Hampton Court Palace. And later in the year, there will be visits to a London Christmas show as well as a special overnight trip to the magical Christmas markets in Bruges.

The Travel Club is just one way of many in which Hospice in the Weald raises funds to continue providing care for terminally ill patients, their families and carers in West Kent and East Sussex. The Hospice is not in the NHS and has to find £6million a year to carry on its wide range of services. Last year the Travel Club raised £15,000 – enough to run the Hospice Day Service for two weeks or to fund care for four patients in the In-Patient Unit.

Lyn, one of the club members says: "The friendly atmosphere of the Travel Club outings helps for a relaxing day, especially if you are on your own. The convenient parking and ease of travelling by coach makes it an enjoyable and entertaining day out."

As well as the annual fee of £10 per person for new and existing members, there is a special price of £18 when purchasing two memberships.

The Travel Club brochure is sure to offer something of interest to tempt you on board, so please contact Maddy Boyle - Community Fundraising Assistant, on 01892 820533 or maddy.boyle@hospiceintheweald. org.uk if you would like to receive a copy or need further details.

You can be sure of a great day out and a helping hand for a great cause too.

CRIME REPORT

Well, we got off lightly this winter regarding the weather but I wish I could say the same about the recorded crime figures. The quarterly figure for Jan, Feb and March shows a reduction of 22, from the last quarter of 2014 of 80 down to 58. This is wonderful news but we have to be careful that we don't get complacent and accept 58 as an acceptable figure because it is definitely not - a crime in under every other day.

The main reductions were in burglary from dwellings and other from the previous quarter of twelve down to four this last quarter but theft from motor vehicles more than doubled from four to nine. Criminal damage fell by more than half from eighteen down to eight and theft offences, excluding vehicles down from twenty two to fourteen. Unfortunately drug offences are back on the scene again, from nothing in the last quarter but up to six this time.

Please, even if you report any crime, especially violence or drugs anonymously, please make that call. The Police need our help as much as we need theirs; if we don't work together it is a very bleak future. Unfortunately, in all professions and walks of life there will always be someone who lets down the team or their work colleagues but we still must work to a code of conduct.

Unfortunately the village is still plagued by litter bugs/fly tippers. There is no excuse for just dropping your litter — if there is no rubbish bin TAKE IT HOME. I can't wait for the day when we actually get a fly tipper in the dock. There are also too many dog owners abusing their right to have a dog by leaving their dogs mess on the footways and pavement.

Before I finish moaning have you noticed the state of some of the street signs around the Village, especially at the top of the Village Green and the bottom of Henwood Green Road? What with the litter, dog's mess and road signs, in some areas we look pretty grotty. I think it is KCC's job to look after the signs but street cleaning and litter removal are the responsibility of the Borough Council. I will clean the Henwood Green Road one if other villagers will look after the others. Let us smarten up a bit.

Be careful out there. Hugh Boorman

TUNBRIDGE WELLS AND DISTRICT CITIZENS ADVICE BUREAUX

I bought a new mobile phone six months ago, and I used the signal checker on the website, but I never have any signal at home or work at all. I want to cancel my contract and go back to my old mobile company as I always had good service with them, but my new provider says I'll have to pay all 18 months of the contract remaining if I want to cancel. I can't afford to pay that all at once and a new contract, but I also can't have a mobile phone that never works when I need it. What can I do?

Most mobile phone contracts last 24 months, but often they don't specify minimum standards of service, so it can be tricky to get out of them without paying a hefty fee. Your best bet is to keep a log of times when your phone doesn't work. Then contact your service provider and ask them if there is anything they can do. This might solve the problem without you needing to cancel.

It might say something in your contract about how much reception you should get: if so you should be able to cancel the contract without paying. Unfortunately, you can't rely on what an online coverage checker will say as they're just a guide and will only ever give an idea of the average signal someone can expect outside in that area.

If the phone doesn't work in your house or workplace but does work outside, the problem might be with those buildings themselves. In that case you wouldn't normally be able to cancel without paying. It might be that the signal just isn't strong enough, so you should ask your provider to carry out a signal strength check.

If there's no signal in your whole area, you might be able to cancel under the Supply of Goods and Services Act. Very poor service most of the time might mean the network is breaking your contract. Some contracts have terms and conditions which mean they're allowed to not provide service sometimes, so you need to get advice to see if this applies to you.

Before anything else, contact your service provider, share any evidence of poor service and explain why you should be let out of your contract early. They might well allow you to cancel.

Richard Snow has taken over responsibility for updating the Village Diary, which can be viewed at www. pemburypc.kentparishes.gov.uk and www.pembury.org for a fuller listing.

The diary serves two purposes. Firstly to enable event organisers to check the diary before arranging an event to avoid some clashes. Secondly to enable everyone to know what is happening in the village. It is important that information is sent to Richard at events@pembury.org with date, times, title of event, venue and contact details.
